Provident Golf Tourney Raises $95K

Eighth annual event benefits Abilene-based New Horizons Ranch and Center

Provident Realty Advisors' eighth annual "Driving for Kids" golf tournament raised more than $95,000 for the Abilene-based New Horizons Ranch and Center, a non-profit retreat for at-risk children and their families.

The tournament was held at the Tribute Golf Club in The Colony, and this year's event raised $20,000 more than last year's.

"Provident's contributions have been more than generous and have helped us serve more than 1,200 children and families each year in surrounding Texas communities, while bringing awareness to our cause," said New Horizons executive director Michael Redden. "The company's active support of New Horizons provides much needed resources and hope for at-risk children who desperately need the intensive treatment and supportive relationships provided at our facilities. We are so grateful for Provident's help which enables us to continue our efforts."

Among the attendees was Dallas Stars' Brenden Morrow.

Provident has been supporting New Horizons since 2002, led by the efforts of the firm's founder and president Leon Backes.
